

USP <797> Consultants

For your convenience, we have compiled this handy list of pharmacy consultants who specialize in USP <797>-related issues. Use it next time you are in need of USP <797> expertise.

Performance Strategies, LLC Kate Douglass, President

568 Cliff St, Ridgewood, NJ 07450
201-251-4331 ■ kdouglass@performancestrategies.info
www.performancestrategies.info

Performance Strategies, LLC provides a variety of services and deliverables to clientele, ranging from local startups to established national companies. Using a change management approach, we assist health care organizations through the collection, documentation, analysis, design, implementation, and measurement of desired changes in key business sectors. This approach seeks to promote assimilation of desired changes at a minimum cost and cycle time.

We work primarily with pharmacy and nursing personnel to improve performance and patient outcomes through implementation of state-of-the-art sterile compounding practices, staff training, and competency assessment as well as quality management programs. Products and services include USP <797> gap analyses; onsite audits; policy, procedure, and form development; staff training programs; competency assessment formats; and integrated quality management programs.

Bernstein & Associates, Architects William N. Bernstein, AIA, Principal

59 W 19th St, 6A, New York, NY 10011 ■ 212-463-8200
info@bernarch.com ■ www.bernarch.com

Bernstein & Associates, Architects specializes in pharmacy design, including the architectural design, engineering design, and construction of USP <797>-compliant pharmacies. Since the introduction of <797>, Bernstein & Associates, Architects has been on the forefront of <797>-compliant architectural design. The firm's principal, William N. Bernstein, AIA, has written extensively on <797>. Over the past five years, our firm has designed 20 <797>-compliant pharmacies, a number of which have been featured in various architectural and health care publications.

LDT Health Solutions, Inc

Lou Diorio, RPh ■ David Thomas, RPh, MBA
38 Cedar Pl, Wayne, NJ 07470 ■ 862-221-9575
lsdiorio@ldtrx.com ■ www.ldthealthsolutions.com

LDT is experienced in all areas of pharmacy practice, including regional compounding management, USP <797> compliance, regulatory affairs, and quality management. Our mission is to provide value through expertise and unsurpassed customer service.

Quality Management

LDT has years of experience developing solid, easy-to-read policy and procedure manuals—traditional “static manuals” or Web- or network-based references that can be followed by all employees.

Compounding Automation

We have unique expertise in automated compounding devices and the computer conductivity needed to maximize these devices regardless of the geography or service model.

Outsourcing/Contract Compounding

Contracting compounding pharmacy services from off-site providers is a growing model in health care. Our experience in constructing, developing, and managing successful multi-state compounding facilities under both Board of Pharmacy and cGMP regulations can help guide you through the selection process if your organization is contemplating shifting its medication delivery model.

USP797.org, Inc

59 West 19th St, 6A, New York, NY 10011
212-463-0800 ■ info@usp797.org ■ www.usp797.org

USP797.org, Inc is a privately owned company committed to public education and consulting on USP <797>. USP797.org provides consulting to pharmacy clients looking to upgrade or maintain their conformance to all of the latest <797> guidelines. Our consulting team consists of knowledgeable and experienced pharmaceutical industry professionals, all of whom have a significant sub-specialty in the area of <797> theory and implementation.

For additional listings of consultants with expertise in <797> compliance, see last month's Cleanrooms & Compounding supplement on www.pppmag.com